The Effect of the Hard Times.

A story was recently told of how a preacher tested the effect of the hard times upon his congregation. At the conclusion of one of his sermons, he said: "Let everybody in the house who pays his debts stand up." Instantly every man, woman and child, with one exception, arose to their feet. He seated the crowd, and then said: "Let every man who is not paying his debts stand up.' The exception noted, a care-worn, hungry indicidad, clothed in his last summe soit, -lowly assumed a perpendicular po sit a, and leaned upon the back of the at in front of him. "How is it my f lend," inquired the minister, "that you are the only man in this 'arge congrega tion who is unable to meet his obligations?" 'I publish a newspaper," be meekly replied, "and my brethren here, who have just stood up, are all my subscribers, and -" "Let us pray!" exclain ed the minister, - Independence Herald.
